

The business of creativity

Deepa Mann-Kler is a fine art painter in County Down. An Indian woman who came to Northern Ireland 14 years ago, Deepa has worked in equality roles and then as a senior manager in a large organisation. Just over three years ago she decided to paint full time and realise her dream of being an artist.

Since then, Deepa has exhibited in China and Germany as well as Northern Ireland (her work was recently on show in the Grand Opera House) and her work is in private collections in Japan, India, Ireland, Belgium, France and Northern Ireland. She undertakes corporate and private commissions.

As well as running her own business, Deepa is a Non-Executive Director with the South Eastern Health & Social Care Trust.
